Randy Smith Jr.
Mrs. Armstrong
Minor High School
35 Lodengreen Drive (35214)
randyd23@gmail.com

● The influence of Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. philosophies on the Civil Rights Movement worldwide.

Leaders are born every day, but many leaders do not achieve their purpose in life. Being a leader is difficult, and includes many sacrifices. You will be ridiculed, hurt, threat, and sometimes find yourself asking rather the objective I have plan is even worth it. As a leader you must be prepared mentally, physically, and emotionally. Two men phenomenon's accomplished their purpose in life as leaders and world changers, also these two great men influenced their philosophies on Civil Rights Movements worldwide . These two outstanding courageous men were so influential in their Civil Rights Movement that they inspired other Civil Rights Movements around the world to fight for justice in a non-violent protest.

Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. set the standard for Civil Right Movements worldwide. " Google" states that Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. influenced other people to begin their own Civil Rights Movement such as Northern Island Movement, Independence Movement in Africa, Canada Quiet Revolution Movement, Civil Rights Movement in the U.S, Gay Liberation Movement, and German Student Movement. All of these movements where influenced by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Mahatma Gandhi Civil Rights Movement to fight non-violently for their community and country. "Wikipedia" states that Gandhi took the idea of applying nonviolence to human situations and the theory that Absolute reality can be comprehended only relatively in human affairs. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Mahatma Gandhi saw the world as a unity, they were blind to individuality and segregation. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Mahatma Gandhi did not just influence Civil Rights Movement worldwide but people perspective on life worldwide, Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. teaches that non-violence, non-response towards hatred and love is the key to unlock the love on your enemies dilapidated mental perspective.

Mahatma Gandhi quoted " When I despair, I remember that all through history the way of truth and love has always won. There have been tyrants and murderers and for a time they seem invincible but in the end, they always fall -- think of it, ALWAYS. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. quoted " believe that unarmed truth and unconditional love will have the final word in reality. This is why right temporarily defeated is stronger than evil triumphant."

Through Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Mahatma Gandhi philosophies they proved that non-violence speaks louder then violence. Unity is stronger that individuality and love is the key to a segregated world . Mahatma Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr. philosophies influenced Civil Right Movement worldwide and peoples perspective on life worldwide.